Sample Size

The results of this opinion poll are based upon a representative sample of 933 eligible Irish voters aged 18 years+.

Fieldwork

As such, the results can be deemed to be accurate to within plus or minus 3.3 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. Fieldwork was conducted on an in-home, face-to-face basis over the period 28th Sept – 10th Oct 2023

Location

The sample was stratified across all constituencies at 125 locations in the country with individuals selected for interview by way of Demographic Quotas (age, gender, socio-economic status) in line with Central Statistics Office (CSO) and market research industry population estimates.

Weighting

The subsequent survey results are weighted to reflect the known demographic profile of Irish adults, utilising the most recently published census population estimates from the Central Statistics Office (CSO).

Party Support

Party support levels are subsequently realigned in accordance with a technical adjustment factor, designed to smooth the effects of extreme highs and lows in support levels for individual parties as measured at a single point in time, and taking variable election day turnout levels into account.

Guidelines

All aspects of the survey, including the Party Support adjustment factor, are implemented in accordance with the technical and ethical guidelines set down by the Association of Irish Market Research Organisations (AIMRO) and the European Society of Opinion & Market Research (ESOMAR).

Party Support Adjustment Factor: Technical Note

- Predicting election results on the basis of poll data is not an exact science. All the evidence shows that support for individual parties can swing dramatically in the period between elections- very often outside the bounds of historic election results.
- What to do in these circumstances? Most polling companies in Britain and Ireland publish their raw survey results as an index of fluctuations in the emotional mood of voters. They also build in an adjustment based on a number of factors. Where we have reports of how people voted in the last general election as well as how they intend to vote in the next one we can use these data to model the likely level of swing from the last election results.
- We then add back in the forecasts of voters who have not voted last time or do not answer that particular question.
- Finally, we take into account each individuals stated likelihood of voting in a forthcoming General Election.
- This is the basis of the adjusted voting forecast in Behaviour & Attitudes polls.

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Background

- The fieldwork for this Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes poll was conducted between 28th September to 10th October 2023, in the weeks leading up to the long-awaited budget.
- It goes without saying that the budget was the central talking point over the fieldwork period, with many lending their opinion to the content of a forecasted ‘give away’ budget. The ESRI warned of a slowdown in the Irish economy, with Ireland’s GDP figure having shown its first decline since 2012, while declines in exports from the multinational sector and consumer spending coming under pressure were also evident. In addition, some alarm bells sounded with corporation tax revenues slipping for a second month. However, easing the cost-of-living impact (at least in the short-term) was clearly the focus of the budget, which was widely promoted across the media.
- Housing concerns remained in the headlines throughout in the lead up to the budget, with the opposition maintaining a strong media presence regarding this issue.
- Along with the Soccer and Rugby wins, we also witnessed the announcement that Ireland and the UK will co-host the 2028 Euros. Let’s hope our sporting luck continues on Saturday night! A positive distraction from the cost of living is probably required.

Government and Leader Satisfaction Levels

- Although the satisfaction levels with the Government have remained quite consistent over recent months at around 1 in 3 satisfied, this wave has seen an increase in satisfaction to 38% (in line with the June high of 39%). This is likely influenced by the forecasted 'giveaway' budget.
- Those dissatisfied with the Government have decreased to 53% (-6%pts).
- The individual party leader satisfaction ratings are as follows:
  - Micheál Martin has returned to 47% satisfaction levels, having experienced a dip to 44% satisfaction in the previous wave. Thus, he edges Mary Lou McDonald for the title of the most popular leader.
  - Mary Lou McDonald has once again seen a slight dip in satisfaction to 46% from 49% the previous wave.
  - Leo Varadkar has also returned to his previous satisfaction rating of 36%, increasing by 1 percentage point.
  - Eamon Ryan's satisfaction rating has increased by 1 percentage point to 28% this wave.
  - Ivana Bacik's rating has seen another increase of two percentage points much like the previous wave, with satisfaction now at 44%.

Party Support Levels

- Overall, party support is pretty much as it was last month.
- Sinn Féin's party support has continued to remain steady, with an increase of 1 percentage point to 34%. This has remained pretty steady throughout the year. Since April there has been at least a 10 percentage point gap between Sinn Féin and other parties. Sinn Féin currently has the highest first preference vote across all age groups.
- Fine Gael support has continued to increase by one point, as was the case in the previous poll, to 21%. This remains below the levels seen before the removal of the eviction ban.
- Conversely, Fianna Fáil's level of support has dropped by 1 percentage point to 20%.
- The Green Party has reduced by 2 percentage points to fall in line with the Labour Party, both at 4%.
- Social Democrat support has decreased by one point to 2%, while Aontu has risen by 1 percentage point to 2%.
- Other Independents have remained steady at 9%.
- Overall, total Government support has dropped slightly from 47% to 45%. It will be interesting to see if the budget will have any impact one way or the other over the coming months. Given the consistency of the party levels over recent times, it is unlikely.

Issues Question

- We once again included a question to identify the top three issues facing the country at the moment.
- Concerns surrounding housing continue to dominate as the single most important issue. House prices/Cost of Rent/ Mortgage Repayment Rates are mentioned by 55% as the top issue and remains a key concern for all ages but is especially prominent for those under 35 years of age (71%).
- The homeless situation/Lack of Local Authority Housing is mentioned in second place by 45%.
- Health services is the third most concerning area for the public (43%). Given its level of support in the budget, it could be a “a missed opportunity”, as termed by The Irish Medical Organisation.
- Interestingly, with Winter close, there has been a reduction in those citing household bills as a key concern (since 2022), however 2 in 5 (40%) still mention this as a top 3 issue. This is likely to have been impacted by the unseasonably warm weather, paired with the announcements of support regarding household bills in the budget, and that we tend to adapt to situations, and we have been living with the rising cost of living for over 12 months now. This is an area of even more concern amongst Sinn Féin supporters (48%).
- It is quite interesting that almost one quarter now cite Mental Health as an issue (23%) – it is now higher than crime as a concern, and more prominent amongst females.
- The issue of crime is a substantial worry for 1 in 5 (21%) – increasing threefold from last year – and more pressing an issue for those aged 55+ (28%) and Fianna Fáil supporters (29%).
